Stirling at a Glance

Welcome to the second edition of Stirling at a Glance which presents current social, economic and electoral information for the Stirling Council area.

The Stirling by Numbers Series aims to inform the Council, its partners and the public about the Stirling area. We hope this At-A-Glance edition will keep you well informed about the area in which you work, live or study.

This pocket sized edition complements the full edition of Stirling by Numbers: Key Statistics on Social, Economic and Environmental Issues, the next edition of which, will be available in November 2002.

*Local Government Election covers Stirling Council Area, General Election covers Stirling Parliamentary Constituency.

The voting system used for the Scottish Parliament is known as the Additional Member System (AMS). AMS is a type of proportional representation. Each person in Scotland is represented in the Scottish Parliament by one constituency MSP for their immediate area and seven regional MSPs. There are eight Scottish Parliament Regions. All MSPs have equal status in the Parliament.

Elected under a system of proportional representation. The UK is divided into 12 regions. Each region has between 3 and 11 MEPs and each MEP in a region represents each person living there, e.g. Scotland has 8 MEPs therefore Stirling residents can contact any or all of them.
