1 INTRODUCTION

A NEW COMMUNITY ACTION PLAN FOR DUNBLANE

This new Community Action Plan for 2009 - 2014 sets out:

- What local people think should be the guidelines for the way Dunblane develops in the future
- What needs to be done in Dunblane over the next 5 years and beyond
- Our priorities for projects and action.

The plan will be our guide for what we as a community working closely with the statutory agencies and other interests try to make happen

WORKING FOR DUNBLANE

The plan will be carried out by the community with help from a wide range of organisations and with a lead role being taken by the Dunblane Community Council (DCC) and our own community company Dunblane Development Trust (DDT).

Dunblane Development Trust was established in 2003 after we prepared the first Local Community Plan. It has had an important role over the last 6 years - taking a lead in improving our local environment, taking control of the Braeport to make sure it continues to meet the needs of local groups and clubs, supporting local community projects and developing ideas for building community assets.

DEVELOPING THIS NEW ACTION PLAN

This new Community Action Plan has been developed following:

- A review of our original Local Community Plan 2003
- A special Dunblane Conference for all the main groups and organisations operating in Dunblane held in January 2009 in the Braeport
- A Community Views Survey that went out to nearly 1000 households in the town;
- A Community Views Survey of the High School students;
- A series of stakeholder interviews with key groups, businesses, services and agencies
- Community input from around 250 people attending the Community Futures tent at the Fling at the end of May 2009 and at the Dunblane Centre and the Braeport in the middle of June

THANKS TO EVERYONE WHO TOOK PART

An amazing amount has been achieved since the first Action Plan but there are projects that still need to be completed and new things that need to be done and these are included in this new action plan

2 THE COMMUNITY VIEWS SURVEY & HIGH SCHOOL SURVEY

The Community Views Survey was distributed to a random sample of around 950 households in Dunblane. 388 households returned forms representing a very encouraging 41% return rate. In addition 116 of these household returns contained two completed forms. The report has therefore been able to draw on information gathered from 504 forms.

A similar survey was carried out with Dunblane-based High School students in May; 288 responses were received from High School Survey from students in classes S2 through S5.

Throughout this section of the action plan, quotations from individual survey returns are shown “between inverted commas and in italic type”.

WHAT WE LIKE - Households

There were a great number of very positive responses. As one respondent neatly put it: “The Three Cs - Central, Civilised, Caring”

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION

“Great central location with good public transport and roads to major cities. Fantastic countryside and scenery on our doorstep.”

COMMUNITY & CITIZENSHIP

“The community spirit e.g. maintenance of the flower beds and numerous activities and clubs for various ages; the environment - the space and greenery add to the peacefulness; the social responsibility displayed - relatively little graffiti, building a skateboard park for example; the mixed age profile - a space for both old and young alike; this survey.”

“Location and a scale of development that just about preserves a sense of continuity. It is still possible to bump into friends in the High Street and to build relationships with shopkeepers.”

RURAL / QUIET

“Unique place to live, a city with a village feel.”

ENVIRONMENT AND GREENSPACE

“Work of the DDT to brighten up the town is much appreciated”

“Excellent walking and cycling paths - especially along the riverside and out to neighbouring areas”

LOCAL FACILITIES AND SERVICES

“Good Health Centre”

“Good schools”

HERITAGE AND HISTORY

“The very attractive and rather unusual site of the town - a winding street of traditional buildings nestling in a steep sided valley, with the cathedral in the background. Old, interesting and even slightly continental”

“Beautiful scenery and good transport”

“The fresh air and the sweet summer breeze”

“Bennets pies”

“It has nice places to take pretty pictures of to get inspiration for drawing”

WHAT WE DO NOT LIKE - Households

Despite to praise that the town gets, there are a great many issues that people are concerned about.

DISLIKES	Number of times people mentioned this	%

TRAFFIC, ROADS & TRANSPORT	152	30%
HOUSING & DEVELOPMENT	94	19%

LACK OF LOCAL FACILITIES & SERVICES

“The lack of a decent café or restaurant that would want to take your visitors to”

“Shops - old fashioned hours, presentation, service, lack of energy to keep up with retailers they feel are taking away from them. Charity shops are our signature dish - how sad is that?”

“The fact that there is not much for people my age (16 - 19) to do or places to go. Many people of my age don’t want to go to the Dunblane Centre or ‘Hot Chocolate’. The reputation youths are given, is also bad and is VERY generalised - not everyone’s like that!”

COMMUNITY AND CITIZENSHIP

“Buckfast bravado in the gloaming on the Laigh Hills”

“The amount of litter is a disgrace and the fact that the refuse men require to daily patrol Old Doune Road after the High School lunch break.”

TRAFFIC, ROADS AND TRANSPORT

“Condition of roads and pathways - mainly pot-holes - and the general lack of council maintenance of public areas”

“The way in which it has changed from an attractive small town into an enormous car park. It’s not just the inconvenience I deplore but the unsightly mess of it all. Every street choked with cars!”

HOUSING AND DEVELOPMENT

“Anonymous new housing estates”

“There’s no way our young people will be able to afford to live here”

“Increasing provision of high cost new build houses”

ECONOMY AND TOURISM

“Main Street is very basic in its offering and feels ‘dead’”

“There isn’t a lot of things to do and the things there are to do are really exclusive (golf club, tennis courts - no fully public courts - and Astro turf always locked)”

“The situation with the NEDS”

“Small, easily bored”

“Nothing to do and what there is to do is too expensive”

“Too many old folks here”

“People are sometimes disrespectful”

“There’s not a lot of things to do or you have to pay to do things and children don’t like to ask parents for money all the time”

“Long way to Donnington”

“The police force is incompetent when tackling alcohol issues in Dunblane. The Laighills are no longer safe for families and young children due to gangs of youths”

“How do you get to school? - walk past NEDS who blow smoke in your face”

LOCAL FACILITIES AND SERVICES

“If we provided a proper centre for young people to “hang out” in instead of walking the streets”

“There were more public sports and leisure facilities and a more diverse cross section of quality shops in the High Street”

“Better eating places - bars, restaurants, cafes for all the family”

“A swimming pool at the High School - it must be the only PFI school without one”

“A swimming pool - like we were promised in 1974”

ECONOMY AND TOURISM

“If we could re-create a new High Street with some new exciting shops as well as maintaining our local amenities attracting more tourism and giving the community a chance to chose not to go elsewhere”

“If we could create an attractive / attracting image of Dunblane. Somewhere where the residents could feel proud of living, somewhere attractive to visitors and not just a dormitory town for people to live who work elsewhere

“If there was a bit more life to the place. The High Street is very picturesque but lacks substance somehow”

TRAFFIC, ROADS AND TRANSPORT

“More sensible parking for High Street and Post Office area”

“New railway halts were built at Barbush, Kinbuck and Blackford thus reducing car use and car parking at Dunblane”

COMMUNITY AND CITIZENSHIP

“If there was zero tolerance of kids drinking in public places”

“Locals took more pride in the cleanliness of our streets and parks and supported the DDT in its efforts”

“Newer residents played a bigger part in local activities as contributors, not just occasional bystanders”

HOUSING AND DEVELOPMENT

“If there was a better mix of houses to rent or buy so that young couples would be able to stay in the community of they wished”

ENVIRONMENT AND GREENSPACE

“the Laighills Park was made into a country park with parking, better access and paths particularly from Tannahill Terrace and Ramoyle and with park benches and signage”

“the river banks were repaired - it’s a disgrace how long nothing has happened”

“it had industry to bring importance and growth to Dunblane”

“more shops and more to do without leaving Dunblane”

TRAFFIC, ROADS & TRANSPORT

“Better maintenance of the roads and pathways”

“Something must be done to sort out the commuter parking. The town is just a glorified car park for people from outwith Dunblane”

“Imaginative and creative street-work with young people - as happened with the skate park”

4 KEY POINTS & STRATEGIC ISSUES FROM COMMUNITY PROFILE

Dunblane lies on the eastern edge of the Stirling Council area some five miles or so north of Stirling. After Stirling, it is the largest community in the council area. Statutorily, Dunblane lies in Ward 3 of Stirling Council - "Dunblane and Bridge of Allan" - which has four councilors representing it. The Dunblane Community Council has twelve members representing seven out of eight wards - the eighth covers the landward areas outside the town and is not covered by this action plan.

Dunblane is built around an ancient crossing over the Allan Water at a point where routes were able to divide - west to Callander and the western highlands, south to central Scotland and north east towards Perth. The town is physically divided by the line of the river and perhaps more significantly by the later railway. In the east the High Street, Cathedral, the older weavers' cottages are separated by two close-by hills - Blane's Hill and Holmehill - from the extensive Victorian suburb. The population is more or less equally split east and west of the river / railway.

PEOPLE - a young town - partly

Dunblane is a vital growing community of around 10,000 residents. Above the age of 35 - 40, the age spread of people is very much in line with both the Stirling Council area and Scotland as a whole. Below that age, there are marked differences - on the 2007 figures, nearly 24% of its people are aged 15 and under compared to 17% for Stirling Council and 16% for Scotland; correspondingly only 18% are aged 16 - 34 compared to 25% for Stirling and for Scotland.

In terms of growth, the population of Dunblane has been rising sharply and steadily for 40 years from around 2,000 in 1971 to nearly 10,000 in 2007. Over the last ten years, Dunblane's population has grown by over 22% whereas Stirling Council's has increased by 6% and Scotland's by just 1%;

HOUSES - numbers and tenure

Dunblane has seen a continuing and sustained growth of house numbers over the past forty years. In 1971 there were fewer than 1,500 houses and in 2009 there are over 3,500 - a 130% increase.

Dunblane has a high proportion of owner occupied housing and a correspondingly low proportion of social rented housing when compared with both Stirling Council and Scotland. This difference has widened since 2001 through the continuing numbers of local authority homes that have been bought through the Right-to-Buy scheme. Since 1980, 402 council houses in Dunblane have been purchased through the Right to Buy legislation. There are currently 213 council houses in Dunblane - a drop of 88 (nearly 30%) since the 2001 census - making up 6.2% of the housing stock as compared to over 20% for Scotland or 27% when other social rented accommodation such as Housing Association homes is included.

There are 100 households on the council's waiting list for council housing in Dunblane. During the year 2007/8 there were just 11 council houses let in Dunblane where the ratio of applications to lets was 100:1 for the Rylands/Whitecross area and 7:1 for what is known as the Dunblane Town area.

Forth Housing Association is the main Registered Social Landlord for the area. They currently have no properties in Dunblane although they have plans - currently stalled - for 26 homes in the 50+ Anchors Cross development. They are very keen to progress this project which is dependent on release of the land by the owners to enable the development. There are no people on the Forth HA waiting list for Dunblane as they have no properties in the town.

Hanover Housing Association operates three developments for older people: 33 owner occupied flats and bungalows by Holmehill, 28 shared equity flats at Drumcastle Court and 31 rented flats in Springfield Terrace.

Stirling Council has been granted "Pressured Area Status" for Dunblane by the Scottish Government because of this shortage of affordable accommodation in the town. As well as helping to support the argument for more affordable accommodation being built, this has the effect that any new council house tenancies taken up since 2001 (approximately 50) do not carry with them the right to buy for a period of five years

Increasing the stock of affordable homes in Scotland has been closely tied in to the availability of land for house building generally of which a quota (around 25% usually) need to be affordable for planning permission to be granted

There are further options for affordable house development as local authorities have recently been enabled and encouraged to develop their own stock once again. Stirling Council has a site in Dunblane in its Housing Account and is keen to explore with the community options for the development of council houses on it.

COMMUNITY FACILITIES, ACTIVITIES & ORGANISATIONS

The range of largely volunteer-run spaces for community activities for people of all ages includes: the Braeport Centre; the Dunblane Centre (opened 2004); the Victoria Halls; the Cathedral Halls; Scottish Churches House; various churches, church halls and the schools. Stirling Council owns the Victoria Halls and the Braeport Centre and is responsible for maintaining them in a wind and water-tight condition but provides no staff and delivers no activities in them.

Leisure facilities include: the Dunblane Hydro Leisure Club, the Dunblane New Golf Club, the Dunblane Bowling Club, the Dunblane Soccer Club; the Dunblane Sports Club for tennis, squash and table tennis; the Skate Park in Laighills (completed 2007); the sports facilities at the Dunblane Centre. There is no public accessible swimming pool or leisure centre.

Leisure activities are provided by a wide range of small clubs and associations - a notable one being the weekly Tea Dance.

Activities for young people include: Scouts; Brownies; Boys Brigade; Tae Kwon Doe; a wide range of organised activities at the Dunblane Centre.

Other community groups and organisations include: Dunblane Community Council; Dunblane Development Trust; Dunblane Civic Society; Dunblane

Local History Society; Holmehill Community Buyout; Dunblane Fling; Dunblane Folk Club; Dunblane Allotment Group; Sustainable Dunblane; Dunblane Council of Churches

LOCAL ECONOMY AND EMPLOYMENT

At the time of the 2001 Census, Dunblane had a slightly higher proportion of people who were economically active full time than Scotland and even more so than the Stirling Council area. Levels of self-employment were broadly the same as Stirling but higher than Scotland. Dunblane had about half the proportion of unemployed people as Scotland.

The proportion of people who are in managerial or professional occupations was roughly twice that of Scotland as a whole with correspondingly lower figures for skilled trades, retailing and elementary occupations. Dunblane had nearly twice the national average of people working in education.

Local employment opportunities include public services such as education, health and care; transport; tourism, leisure and hospitality; an abattoir and in retailing. There is a relatively small set of twelve industrial units for rent at Duckburn some of which are multiple lets and managed commercial workspace at RFL House near the Health Centre.

In the Community Views Survey, over the half the people who indicated they were in work, worked in either Dunblane, Bridge of Allan or Stirling.

EDUCATION & CHILDCARE FACILITIES

Dunblane parents, teachers and others are proud of the high quality schools and childcare in the town.

Dunblane Preschool Playgroup Association runs playgroups and a range of parent and toddler facilities in the Braeport Centre working in partnership with Stirling Council.

There are four privately run nurseries for children from newly born to five years old with some availability and each of the three primary schools has nursery classes which are currently full.

Of the three primary schools, Doune and St Mary's are practically full while Newton is running at around 85% capacity.

The High School has been recently rebuilt and moved into its new premises in 2007. It is praised for both its academic achievements and the quality of its learning environment. One slight issue for the students and parents is the need for High School students to cross the footbridge over the A9 to access the playing facilities.

The Queen Victoria School provides education for the children of service personnel who are either Scottish or based in Scotland.

Stirling University is located in the neighbouring community of Bridge of Allan.

HEALTH SERVICES

Dunblane Health Centre provides primary care for the majority of local residents from premises built in 1987 and owned by Forth Valley Primary Care NHS Trust. Extension of the premises would help to facilitate an additional range of services which are needed. There is a lack of parking - particularly for patients - in the immediate vicinity.

The practice is unhappy about the history of a lack of dialogue with the Health Centre on the part of the NHS and Stirling Council planners when proposals for increasing the population of the town have been put forward.

There are two dental practices and two opticians in the town.

The nearest general hospital is in Stirling close to the town centre but is soon to be relocated in new premises in Larbert a few miles further away.

HISTORY AND HERITAGE

Dunblane is a jewel. Its built up area contains an extensive Conservation Area - one of the first to be designated in Scotland. Initially for the cathedral and the general environment of the old town and Allan Water valley and later for the fine and spacious Victorian suburb east of Perth Road, the designed landscape of the Hydro and the older weavers' crofts and street pattern of the Ramoyle area.

Dunblane has a long history dating back to the seventh century although there are signs of Roman occupation before that. Key elements of its story include: St Blane and the Early Christian settlement, the founding of the original cathedral, the growth of Dunblane as an important pre-reformation mediaeval burgh, the Leighton Library, the Battle of Sherrifmuir, its long decline as a centre of importance, its Victorian regeneration based on the coming of the railway and its steady growth as a dormitory town since the 1960's.

Dunblane Museum next to the Cathedral has been extended, redeveloped and reopened in 2008/9. Amongst other treasures it includes a collection of Communion Tokens that is of national significance

TRANSPORT AND COMMUNICATION

Train services connect Dunblane directly to Glasgow, Edinburgh and Perth and beyond. Bus services connect the town to a wide range of local and regional destinations although east west routes - particularly to Callander - are inconveniently infrequent.

The M9 /A9 route passes just to the west of the town with three local access points. In the Community Views Survey, 63% of people who were in work stated that they travelled to work by car.

ENVIRONMENT

Green spaces in and around the town

The built area is punctuated with fine green spaces and "corridors" - the River Valley, the Laighills, Holmehill, Ledcameroch, Ochloch Park and the land below the Hydro as well as the wide tree-lined gardens and streets of large parts of the town. Around the built area, the green spaces provide a backdrop to the city and easy access to open countryside. More specifically, the Kippenrait Glen and Wharry Burn is a Site of Special Scientific Interest.

Laighills

The community has been negotiating with Stirling Council for a package of improvements - enhancing paths and other facilities and managing the site to enhance wildlife, recreation and educational possibilities.

Holmehill

The Holmehill Community Buyout community company are continuing their campaign and encouraging public use through a range of community events and information leaflets including a new walks and paths map in preparation.

The riverside

The walks and paths along the riverside are a huge asset to the town but Stirling Council's delay in carrying out repairs and maintenance following the damage caused by flooding is of great concern to residents

Planting and flowers around the town

The DDT's volunteer contribution to improving the look of the town has been a consistent bonus and has been widely appreciated and praised in the Community Survey. The survey also highlighted concern about the loss of green-space within the town as larger gardens become subdivided through the mechanism of infill housing.

Greenbelt

The Green Belt designation currently protects an arc of land from the QV School in the north around the west side of the town to the Dunblane New Golf Club land in the south. The green belt does not extend to the land to the east of the settlement area.

6 DUNBLANE - OUR VISION FOR THE FUTURE

This statement is based on our original vision for the future which was set out in our first Community Action Plan.

“Dunblane - a sustainable community working in partnership for the benefit of all”

A welcoming, safe and inclusive community with first class childcare and educational opportunities for all ages, superb community facilities for leisure, arts, health and play, with a good range of housing to suit the needs of local people and new residents alike and where the local infrastructure is in balance with the population.
An enterprising community with a thriving attractive town centre, bustling with shopping, restaurants and other facilities for local people and visitors. Where new enterprise is supported and encouraged and where an increasing number of people work within the town itself and where the local businesses work together to maximise their potential.
A well connected community with good public transport links to major centres, where car use is supplemented with a good network of local transport to link the different areas of the town and where parking is useful and practical but does not dominate other needs
A town with a first class local environment with well maintained, safe paths and cycle routes within the town and to give access to the surrounding countryside, with parks and open spaces for recreation and delight, with a town centre that allows people on foot precedence over the needs of vehicles.
A community proud of its heritage where the past enriches the present and helps to create a new and thriving future.

7 DUNBLANE - DIALOGUE FOR DEVELOPMENT

Our aim in preparing this plan has been to set the community agenda for the development of Dunblane within the context of the 21st century. We consider this plan as the foundation for establishing Dunblane as a community that concerns itself with addressing the issues of today - local, national and global - without compromising the needs of tomorrow.

Our local community plan will be used on the one hand to guide the action we take as a community to drive forward our priority projects and on the other hand to influence the policy agendas of our voluntary, statutory and commercial partners and allies.

Some aspects of the plan will be taken up by us as a community through the Community Council, the Development Trust and other community organisations; others are the responsibility of the statutory authorities, most notably Stirling Council; and yet others will be delivered by commercial and trading interests. What is certain is that we cannot achieve this on our own.

We have a unique opportunity to shape the town's future. Stirling Council has just set out on the process of preparing the Local Development Plan - we outline the key policy issues, landmarks and the timescale later on in this document. At the heart of this new planning framework is the duty on the council to engage in a meaningful and wide consultation.

We are in a strong position in relation to this Local Development Plan process. Our own plan is now mapped out, enabling the Community Council to reference it and develop local policy and the Development Trust and our other community organisations to take action.

The Community Futures work has given us a clear understanding of the issues that local people feel most strongly about and our community's priorities for change and development. We set these out below under five main headings. Inevitably, there is a great interdependence and overlap between these various themes.

What is needed now is to put flesh on the bones of these ideas - if, for example, we say we all want a "thriving High Street" what does that mean in practice? We have been given a boost with the £1million plus award from the Scottish Government's Town Centre Regeneration Fund scheme but that is just a start for just one project - should we have radical changes and how radical should those changes be in order to create that vibrant heart to our community?

We need to establish a meaningful dialogue between all interests - community, statutory and commercial. To this end, the Community Council and the Development Trust should continue to work together with the wider public over the coming years to ensure that our Vision for the Future of Dunblane will be understood as the central thinking for the Stirling Council Local Development Plan in so far as that refers to Dunblane.

8 MAIN STRATEGIES AND PRIORITIES 2009 - 2014

1 THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT AND PUBLIC INFRASTRUCTURE

A sustained dialogue between local residents and our community organisations on the one hand and policy makers and other interests on the other is vital for the community to feel properly engaged with the physical aspects of the development of Dunblane. This will need to take into account issues such as how big the town is or becomes, over what time period, how the public realm is developed and maintained, what the necessary infrastructure will be to serve the needs of local people and visitors, how the town should cater for local journeys and ready access for all to its facilities and services.

The main context for this is the continuous growth of housing over the past forty years. The current Structure Plan and the Local Plan recognise this and indeed the Structure Plan allows for only a further 50 houses (infill and small scale development) for the period 2008 - 2017 for the Stirling North (Dunblane, Causewayend and Bridge of Allan) part of the Stirling Core Area so that “there should be a period for this development to consolidate”.

The Local Development Plan currently in the course of preparation will take a longer term view and is required to take into account the allocation of housing land for development through to 2022 and indeed sketch out the “broad scale and location of housing land” for the following ten years as well.

The findings from Community Views Surveys and the Open Meetings support the current policy for the period through to 2017 and make clear statements about the need to limit house growth whilst seeking an increase in affordable accommodation in small scale developments.

Housing is just one aspect of the built environment and there is a clear call for the town’s facilities - thought to be no longer in proportion to the needs of its increased population - to catch up with the development that has already taken place. The built environment touches on all quarters of the town - where we live, where we shop and meet, where we are at school, work or play.

Main priorities

- Defining the extent, type and scale of housing development and the community facilities in scale with that
- Developing and improving the walking and cycling paths in and around the town
- Ensuring better maintenance of the public realm - road and pavement surfaces, the riverside banks, walls and paths
- A thorough investigation and review of vehicle parking in Dunblane
- Take forward the proposals for the extension and environmental improvements to the Mill Row car park
- Explore the need for a frequent round town bus service to improve access between the residential streets and the centre of town

2 COMMUNITY FACILITIES AND MEETING PLACES

There is a strongly voiced feeling that Dunblane has been sold short when it comes to the provision of readily accessible, public and affordable community facilities. Voluntary effort has rescued the Victoria Halls, taken control of the Braeport Centre, developed the Dunblane Centre, successfully created the skate park and furnished the town with bright and colourful flowers - amongst other local commitments - but the profile of the local authority is remarkably unrepresented in terms of community facilities. In particular there is little provision for young people - teenagers especially. The clearest example of local feeling about this is the lack of an affordable, public swimming pool - both the Household Views and the High School surveys identify this as one of the top two priorities.

Main priorities

- Public swimming facilities
- Refurbishment and modernisation of the Braeport as a community centre
- Dunblane Centre to take on a greater role with and for teenagers and young adults
- Improving the children's outdoor play spaces
- Health Centre improvements

3 LOCAL ECONOMY AND TOURISM

Our overall agenda is to strengthen our local economy and create a more vibrant heart to the community. Dunblane is by no means an impoverished community. At the same time, our local understanding of the way wealth of all kinds is created and nurtured locally is fractured and enmeshed in a vicious circle - too few residents shopping locally leading to diminishing retail opportunities leading to fewer residents shopping locally is just one high profile witness to this. We have no focus on the cycle of local production and local spending or on the creation of local jobs. Alongside the strong sense of history and heritage, local people and visitors alike find the town centre disappointing, there is little sense of pleasant arrival for visitors or tourists and negotiating your way around the town is curiously difficult.

Main priorities

- Devise a strategy to revitalise the Town Centre
- Improve the sense of "arrival" at Dunblane

4 ENVIRONMENT & GREEN-SPACE

Dunblane is more or less surrounded by green open space. It lies at one of the gateways between the rural agricultural straths of south-west Perthshire and the more urban environment of central Scotland. This green setting is drawn right into the community itself through the Allan Water valley, the Laighills, Holmehill, the Golf course, extensive woodland areas and the green and leafy streets and gardens of both the older and newer residential areas. The work of the DDT over recent years in putting in place the bright and colourful floral displays is particularly praised. The community values this green emphasis and wishes to ensure its survival and improvement through a co-ordinated programme of maintenance and development of the spaces to serve the needs of the future and maintain the well being and natural health of both the environment and the people.

Main priorities

- Developing Holmehill as a well used community green space
- Carrying out improvement for the Laighills by enhancing paths and other facilities and managing the site to enhance wildlife, recreation and educational potential, promulgate the designation of the site as a Local Nature Reserve (LNR) or similar.
- Setting in place a town-wide anti-litter strategy
- Cherishing other open spaces in Dunblane

5 COMMUNITY AND CITIZENSHIP

Our aim is to work towards a community infrastructure that recognises the important contribution that all citizen's - whatever their age or status - can make to well-being and livelihoods in Dunblane. Although Dunblane might have once been considered as a sleepy haven, the growth of housing over recent years has led in part to Dunblane having an astonishingly high proportion of young people; indeed for some age groups this is nearly twice the national average.

Main priorities

- Improving local networking between the various community groups and organisations in the town
- Establishing a Dunblane Young People's Forum

10 PLANNING AND THE STRATEGIC CONTEXT

STIRLING COUNCIL LOCAL PLAN

The existing Local Plan was adopted in 1999 and a first alteration to it was adopted in 2007.

As far as Dunblane is concerned, the alteration recognises that the major house development sites allocated in the 1999 plan at Barbush, Highfields, Ledcameroch, Auchinlay, Tannahill, Springfield Terrace and Leewood House had all been completed and that the previously designated countryside boundary needed to be amended to include an additional site at Anchors Cross for 50 houses - 25 of which must be affordable.

STIRLING COUNCIL LOCAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Like all councils in Scotland, Stirling is currently engaged in the process of preparing a new type of Local Plan - a Local Development Plan (LDP). This will combine in one document the functions of the previous regional-wide Structure Plan and the Local Plan(s) and Alterations. To download the Development Plan Scheme published March 2009 go to http://www.stirling.gov.uk/local_dev_plan_final.pdf

STATEMENT FROM THE COUNCIL'S LOCAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN SCHEME

“One area of new national policy is that of Scottish Planning Policy (SPP3) ‘Planning for Homes’. SPP3 shows that a key part of the LDP is the provision of a generous supply of land for housing and the timely release of that land to enable the building of new homes.

In calculating how much land is required, we will be required to consider housing demand, demographic projections and forecast economic performance for the Stirling area. This is likely to result in a requirement for more land than under previous forms of assessment. An important aspect will be to establish and examine Stirling’s housing market areas, private sector demand for housing and affordable housing requirements (both for rural and urban areas), community care housing requirements, and the necessary policy framework to achieve this.”

POLICY AREAS TO BE REVIEWED IN THE PREPARATION OF THE LOCAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN

The preparation of the Local Development Plan will require examination and review of a wide number of policy areas, most of which are of huge significance to Dunblane.

Moreover, it could be said that our Theme 3 - Community and Citizenship - lies at the heart of the new planning process

TIME FRAME for the LDP

The LDP is required to allocate sufficient housing land for development up to 10 years from predicted date of adoption (i.e. 2012 to 2022) but must have “effective” sites (i.e. sites that are available for development) for at least the first 5 years. It must also identify the broad scale and location of housing land beyond year 10 (likely to be up to 2032).

This Community Action Plan resulting from the Dunblane Community Futures community engagement process is a vital first step in putting forward the aspirations of the Dunblane community to Stirling Council and has been designed to inform that Local Development Plan.

11 OTHER MAJOR POLICY GUIDELINES AND STRATEGIC CONTEXT

As well as the Local Development Plan, there are other statutory frameworks that provide a useful context within which our own Community Action Plan fits - the Single Outcome Agreement 2008 - 2011 between Stirling Council and the Scottish Government and the Stirling Community Planning Partnership's (SCCP) Vision for Stirling. These two documents lie very closely one beside the other.

SCCP's Vision for the Future sets out that Stirling [Council area] will be:

Stirling will be :	FIT WITH OUR MAIN THEME
A place with ambition for itself and its people	Over-arching
A location of choice with a growing population and vibrant economy that is open for business	1 & 3
A place with jobs and opportunities for all	3
A place where lifelong learning is valued and encouraged
A place where improved wellbeing adds life to years, not just years to life	5
A place with safe, strong and resilient communities	5
A place with a high quality natural and built environment	4
A place where services that citizens receive are efficient, effective and customer focused	Over-arching
A place where people participate and take responsibility for their lives and their communities	Over-arching
A place with a commitment to sustainable development and carbon reduction	Over-arching
A place where equality of opportunity is promoted and diversity welcomed.	Over-arching

The Single Outcome Agreement sets out how this vision will be achieved:

“The Stirling Single Outcome Agreement expresses the joint commitment and mutual accountability of the Scottish Government, the statutory Community Planning partners and the other partners within the Stirling Community Planning Partnership to the delivery of the agreed outcomes that will make a difference to the lives of the citizens and communities of Stirling.”

The Single Outcome Agreement is contained within six strategic topics and four strategic themes:

STRATEGIC OUTCOMES		FIT WITH OUR MAIN THEME
Strategic Topic 1	Making Stirling a place with a vibrant economy that is open for business	3
Strategic Topic 2	Making Stirling a place with jobs and opportunities for all	3
Strategic Topic 3	Making Stirling a place where lifelong learning is valued and encouraged	2
Strategic Topic 4	Making Stirling a place where improved wellbeing adds life to years, not just years to life	5
Strategic Topic 5	Making Stirling a place with safe, strong and resilient communities	Over-arching
Strategic Topic 6	Making Stirling a place with a high quality environment	4
Strategic Theme A	Making services better	Over-arching
Strategic Theme B	Making Stirling a place where participation and responsibility are encouraged	Over-arching
Strategic Theme C	Making Stirling more sustainable	Over-arching
Strategic Theme D	Equalities and diversity	Over-arching

Moreover, with specific reference to the intention of engaging communities very closely in this process, Strategic Theme B includes the following:

“The strategic theme of encouraging participation and responsibility continues the work already well advanced on encouraging local democracy and participation. Citizens and communities will be encouraged to play an active role in the development and sustainability of the area.

Local outcomes that will contribute to this strategic priority are:

- Our people will be enabled to to work together to engage in and influence the shape of our communities;
- Our people will take responsibility for their own actions and how they affect others.”

It is time for our strategic partners to support that necessary dialogue with the community that will enable the implementation of these strategic objectives

12 MAKING IT HAPPEN

To make this plan happen we need to:

- Support and strengthen the role of the local community organisations - the DCC, the DDT, Dunblane Centre and the other venue management groups, Sustainable Dunblane, Holmehill Community Buyout and others
- Establish good local partnership working through information sharing and strategic alliances between the various community organisations in the town
- Establish specific Project Working Groups between the community organisations bringing in the agencies as required

The DDT and other community companies have an important role to play in:

- Developing community projects
- Raising funds for community projects
- Working in partnership with agencies
- Involving local people in volunteering and community organisations

Project Working Groups

The need to set up specific Project Working Groups to progress priority projects will be agreed through shared meetings of the various community organisations. They will bring together community and agency representatives for a time limited period to work on a limited number of priorities that will benefit from joint partnership working.

If you are interested in becoming involved with one or more of the Working Groups, please contact one of the people at the organisations listed on the next page.

REVIEWING THE ACTION PLAN

At regular intervals of no more than two years from the launch of this plan we will convene review meetings to take stock of what has been achieved and agree an update of the action for the next year

DUNBLANE COMMUNITY FUTURES
A REVIEW OF PROGRESS AND A NEW COMMUNITY ACTION PLAN
2009-2014

Dunblane prepared its own Action Plan in 2003 setting out what needed to be done over a 3 - 4 year period

A lot has been achieved, work is still in progress and new things now need to be done.

It was thought that it was time to take stock, review what has happened and set out a new agenda for the next 5 years and beyond.

This new document contains

- A summary review of what has been achieved over the last 5 or 6 years
- A description of Dunblane
- A new Action Plan for 2009 - 2014 - with main themes, priority projects and a list of what needs to be done.
- Recommendations for organisations and Project Working Groups to take the plan forward
